WHAT DOES THE OMBUDSPERSON (OR OMBUDS) DO?

The Ombuds considers alternative views of an issue in question in an objective and impartial way. She works to provide options for the resolution of issues raised by members of the campus community. The role of the Ombuds is to ensure that all students, faculty, administration and staff members receive fair and equitable treatment.

WHAT TENETS DOES THE OMBUDS ABIDE BY?

The Ombuds is a confidential resource for members of the Pomona College community. The identities and concerns of visitors are not disclosed without their expressed permission and only to the extent the visitor wishes or allows. Actions related to the resolution of the visitor’s concerns are not revealed as well. The only exception when confidentiality does not apply is when there is imminent risk of serious harm. The Office of the Ombuds does not keep records and is not an Office of Notice for Pomona College.

The Ombuds is impartial and does not advocate for any party or the College. She is, however, an advocate for fairness and equity.

The Office of the Ombuds is independent from other College offices, including the President’s Office, and is based off-campus in the Claremont Village. The Ombuds reports to the President only for budgetary and administrative matters.

The Ombuds is an informal resource. Although the Office of the Ombuds is available to facilitate resolution to conflict, it does not have authority to impose or enforce resolution, or reverse decisions made by other administrative offices or authorized bodies. As an informal resource, the Ombuds does not participate in formal processes, including formal investigations.
