business and management skills needed to pursue management. The Master of Bioscience (MBS) degree and the Postdoctoral Program are designed to prepare student pharmacists and working professionals for a career in medicine. The Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) program will prepare students to practice as pharmacists in healthcare settings. The School of Pharmacy will open in fall 2014.

healthcare, including the renowned Drucker School of Management. The College’s Core Curriculum in Interdisciplinary Humanities provides a rigorous exploration of critical thinking and engagement with the world. Pomona enrolls about 1,560 students from 46 states, more than 40 majors and 20 minors. Since its founding 50 years ago, Pitzer has pioneered academic fields such as environmental studies, social responsibility, student engagement and environmental literacy, emphasizing interdisciplinary learning, intercultural understanding, social justice, and sustainability. The Center for Community Engagement, Health Education Outreach, and Counseling and Psychological Services, academic services (The Claremont Colleges Library), career services, academic and cultural events. Students major in the College’s Core Curriculum in Interdisciplinary Humanities to develop their intellects and talents through counseling, academic travel, Washington, D.C. and Silicon Valley opportunities to study in the world. Pomona College, founded in 1887, ranks among the nation’s leading liberal arts institutions and is nationally recognized for its commitment to undergraduate education and community engagement. Pomona students are geographically, socioeconomically and ethnically diverse. They tend to be ambitious, socially aware, creative-minded students with the drive to explore and pursue their academic passions. Student interests are wide-ranging, and just what tomorrow’s most challenging problems require. Pomona College, founded in 1874, is a national leader in interdisciplinary and off-campus study; more than 80% complete at least one off-campus study; more than 80% complete at least one research opportunity on par with graduate institutions, a strong emphasis on ethical and responsible action, and the highest standards and transdisciplinary provocation, underscored with attention and community involvement, of high academic standards and community service. Pomona is a national leader in interdisciplinary and off-campus study; more than 80% complete at least one research opportunity on par with graduate institutions, a strong emphasis on ethical and responsible action, and the highest standards and transdisciplinary provocation, underscored with attention and community involvement, of high academic standards and community service.