

Follow the incredible journey of five female filmmakers as they drive across America to encourage, empower and inspire the next generation of strong women to go after their career ambitions. The documentary features positive and powerful women leaders, including Pomona's own Ami Radunskaya (with a cameo of Jo Hardin), across a variety of lifestyles and industries and challenges audiences to ask themselves, "what would you do if you weren't afraid to fail?"

The Empowerment Project

7 P.M., THURSDAY
JANUARY 29
ROSE HILLS THEATRE
Q & A following screening with sarah moshman (director/producer)
and dana cook (producer)

ordinary women DOING extraordinary things

SPONSORED BY THE POMONA COLLEGE DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

