Andalucía, the southern-most province in Spain, is the part of Western Europe most intimately connected to the history of Islam. The name “Andalucía,” derived from al-Andalus, the Arabic word for Spain, hearkens back to a time, beginning with the conquest of 711, when most of the Iberian Peninsula was ruled by Muslim emirs and caliphs.

Though the Christian kings of Castile, Aragon, and Portugal ultimately claimed the south for themselves, the physical signs of Islamic civilization still dominate the region. From the austere, eighth-century mosque in Córdoba to the lavish fourteenth-century Alhambra palace in Granada, Andalucía boasts some of the most impressive examples of medieval Islamic architecture to be found anywhere on the planet.

But the real charm of Andalucía lies in its countryside, featuring blindingly white mountain villages (the so-called pueblos blancos), endless olive and almond groves, and warm, fun-loving people. Infamous for its scalding summers, Andalucía is equally renowned for its mild springs, the perfect season for enjoying the countryside the way it is meant to be enjoyed: on foot. No walking country in Europe repays the effort more generously than the southernmost tip of Andalucía. It greets its visitors with whitewashed splashes on its craggy hillsides and minarets reshaped into a Christian bell towers. Herds of wild bulls roam the upland pastures, pigs root for acorns under isolated oak trees, and Egyptian vultures soar overhead. The harsh vocal tones and strident beat of flamenco music seem to echo the call to prayer of the muezzin from centuries ago.

Despite the fact that this part of Andalucía is steeped in the legacy of Islam (or perhaps because of it), it is among the best places in the world to experience semana santa, the week leading up to holiest of Christian holidays: Easter. Each of the pueblos blancos seems to vie with one another to put on the most stirring and beautiful procession, complete with lavish “floats” (pasos) carried slowly through the streets by the dozens of men crowded underneath.

Hiking by day and enjoying village life by night in the midst of a week-long festival; what better way to appreciate the unique charms of the southwestern-most corner of Europe?

Itinerary

Saturday, 4 April 2020

Depart USA
Depart your home city for Spain.

Sunday, 5 April 2020 [Palm Sunday]

Seville / Arcos

Upon arrival at the Sevilla airport, you are met and transfer to the beautiful pueblo blanco of Arcos de la Frontera. We spend our first two nights in the delightful old ‘parador,’ a village building in typical Andalusian style centered on an open patio and located on the dramatic main square of this beautiful town. Today is Palm Sunday and we have the opportunity to witness the first of the extraordinary Easter processions that are a feature of this part of Spain. Tonight’s procession comes through the square outside our hotel and ends in the adjacent church. (Airport transfer 1.5 hours) R,D

HOTEL – Parador de Arcos – ARCOS – village center location with exceptional views.

Monday, 6 April 2020

Arcos

After breakfast and a morning lecture, we begin our hike with a gentle trail through the farmland of southern Spain. This is spectacularly beautiful country with open pastures and arable land combining with the more dramatic scenery of low mountain scrub where genista, cistus and countless herbs perfume our walk. In the afternoon we continue alongside a narrow river valley before returning to Arcos for dinner. Another procession this evening leaves from the church of San Francisco and again enters the main square. B,L,D

AM - 5 miles. Up 750 feet. Down 800 feet. 2.5 hours.

PM - 3 miles. Up 600 feet. Down 100 feet. 2 hours.

Tuesday, 7 April 2020

Arcos / Cortijo de Salinas

Leaving Arcos we drive eastwards before starting our walk through the village of Grazalema, through mountain scenery of limestone cliffs and circling eagles to our picnic lunch site by an isolated whitewashed farmhouse. In the afternoon we continue over a ridge to the lakeside beneath Zahara de la Sierra. We travel to our hotel by road, situated between these two small towns, for our two-night stay. B,L,D

HOTEL – Cortijo de Salinas – country estate property in a rural location

AM - 6 miles. Up 1420 feet. Down 770 feet. 3 hours.

PM - 4 miles. Up 800 feet. Down 170 feet. 2 hours.

Wednesday, 8 April 2020

Cortijo de Salinas

We drive back to Grazalema from where a morning walk takes us through some of the most magnificent scenery of the trip before reaching our lunch stop at the tiny Moorish village of Benaocaz. A short afternoon walk takes us along a Roman roadway down to the town of Ubrique, before returning to our hotel by road. B,L,D

AM - 6 miles. Up 1560 feet. Down 910 feet. 4 hours.

PM - 3 miles. Up 50 feet. Down 1350 feet. 1.5 hours.
Thursday, 9 April 2020
Cortijo de Salinas / Ronda

Our full day walk takes us through the magnificent scenery of the Libar and on to the village of Montejaque. From here we continue to Ronda, one of the most beautiful and dramatically sited towns in Spain. This evening we are able to witness the wonderful processions of the town of Ronda. There are three important groups this evening all of whom will pass close to our hotel. We spend the next three nights in the Parador - one of the famous chain of state-run hotels. B,L,D

HOTEL – Parador de Ronda – RONDA – town center location with good service and fine views.
AM - 7 miles. Up 790 feet. Down 650 feet. 3.5 hours.
PM - 5 miles. Up 980 feet. Down 1450 feet. 2.5 hours.

Friday, 10 April 2020 [Good Friday]
Ronda

We spend a full day in the Sierra de las Nieves with the chance to reach the highest point in this part of southern Spain (weather permitting). The views from here over the Straits of Gibraltar and into the Rif mountains of Morocco are stunning. Return by minibus to Ronda. Tonight is Good Friday, the most important day in the processional calendar. Ronda can boast some of the most emotional of all these celebrations including the famous silent brotherhood of María Santísima en la Soledad. B,L,D Circular walk. Total for the day up to 11 miles. Up 2020 feet. Down 2020 feet. 6.5 hours.

Saturday, 11 April 2020
Ronda

After breakfast and a morning lecture, our walk takes us through the town of Ronda giving us the chance to see some of its hidden charms. Later we travel through rolling farmland to a river valley where we lunch. This afternoon we continue along a delightful gorge to the next town before returning to Ronda by road. Join your fellow walkers this evening for a final dinner. B,L,R,D
