They both really wanted to play professionally and worked hard to make that happen. The Los Angeles Times called Nishioka “the unlikeliest (hu)mankind” moment.”

Working with Emmanuelle Charpentier, now director of the Max Planck Institute for Infection Biology, Doudna and her lab associates opened by the CRISPR technology she helped to develop five years ago. The Career Development Office offers funding for unpaid or low paying summer internships to encourage students to pursue career goals. Students frequently connect with alumni, partners, and peers through various Pomona programs. This includes shadowing and informational interview opportunities through the Shadow Program and frequent direct alumni networking from alumni through the Candid Careers Program and carrying networking programs held on campus. Pomona students are not passive recipients of knowledge. They are, instead, architects of learning is contagious, and that what’s possible is engagement in the fabric of this community. They are called to what is best in us. We must think. We must act—our values always

When the Boston Red Sox selected Pomona-Pitzer slugger (and neuroscience major) Tanner Nishioka ’17 in the ninth round of the MLB Draft, the Sagehens coach thought it couldn’t get any better. The Los Angeles Times called Nishioka “the unlikeliest (hu)mankind moment.”

Pomona College offers an exemplary liberal arts education for the 21st century. Pomona offers an exemplary liberal arts education for the 21st century. It is embedded in The Claremont Colleges and greater Southern California have to offer. Given our wealth of human and natural resources, it is not surprising that Pomona’s offerings reflect the dynamism of this region.

Pomona students are passionate and driven by moral and social justice. They have made the college a national leader in issues of race and gender equality.

The Career Development Office offers funding for unpaid or low paying summer internships to encourage students to pursue career goals. Students frequently connect with alumni, partners, and peers through various Pomona programs. This includes shadowing and informational interview opportunities through the Shadow Program and frequent direct alumni networking from alumni through the Candid Careers Program and carrying networking programs held on campus.

Pomona students are not passive recipients of knowledge. They are, instead, architects of learning is contagious, and that what’s possible is engagement in the fabric of this community. Pomona students are not passive recipients of knowledge. They are, instead, architects of learning is contagious, and that what’s possible is engagement in the fabric of this community.

Pomona offers an exemplary liberal arts education for the 21st century. Pomona offers an exemplary liberal arts education for the 21st century. It is embedded in The Claremont Colleges and greater Southern California have to offer. Given our wealth of human and natural resources, it is not surprising that Pomona’s offerings reflect the dynamism of this region.

Pomona students are passionate and driven by moral and social justice. They have made the college a national leader in issues of race and gender equality.

The Career Development Office offers funding for unpaid or low paying summer internships to encourage students to pursue career goals. Students frequently connect with alumni, partners, and peers through various Pomona programs. This includes shadowing and informational interview opportunities through the Shadow Program and frequent direct alumni networking from alumni through the Candid Careers Program and carrying networking programs held on campus.

Pomona students are not passive recipients of knowledge. They are, instead, architects of learning is contagious, and that what’s possible is engagement in the fabric of this community. Pomona students are not passive recipients of knowledge. They are, instead, architects of learning is contagious, and that what’s possible is engagement in the fabric of this community.

In recognition of Dazai Bokurou’s novel’s 100th anniversary, the Pacific Symphony performed a special performance of an opera adaptation of the novel in New York. The tenth president of Pomona College officially took office in July 2017.

The Career Development Office offers funding for unpaid or low paying summer internships to encourage students to pursue career goals. Students frequently connect with alumni, partners, and peers through various Pomona programs. This includes shadowing and informational interview opportunities through the Shadow Program and frequent direct alumni networking from alumni through the Candid Careers Program and carrying networking programs held on campus. Pomona students are not passive recipients of knowledge. They are, instead, architects of learning is contagious, and that what’s possible is engagement in the fabric of this community. Pomona students are not passive recipients of knowledge. They are, instead, architects of learning is contagious, and that what’s possible is engagement in the fabric of this community.

In recognition of Dazai Bokurou’s novel’s 100th anniversary, the Pacific Symphony performed a special performance of an opera adaptation of the novel in New York. The tenth president of Pomona College officially took office in July 2017.
THE CLASS OF 2021 PROFILE
POMONA COLLEGE

RANK IN CLASS
graduate from a 4-year college

White
Two or more races
Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander
International
Black or African American

Class Size
Admit Rate
Total Applications
219 Females, 192 Males
Early Decision Matriculants
55%
24.1%
.5%

ACT Composite  Race/Ethnicity unknown middle 50%:  median:

Natural Sciences

Social Sciences

ACADEMIC INTEREST (upon application)

93.7%
7.3%
19.2%

Pomona students study abroad.

STUDY ABROAD:

ONE CHILD IN COLLEGE
Cost to Family:  $22,800
Student Work-Study:  $2,800

ONE CHILD IN COLLEGE
ANNUAL INCOME of $75,000
Cost to Family:  $12,300
Need-based Grants:  $64,925

ANNUAL INCOME of $25,000

Cost to Family:  $2,000
Need-based Grants:  $6,925

Net Price Calculator
For out-of-state and international students, estimated prices are not official offers of financial aid from Pomona College.